

Rye Whiskey Finished in Bourbon Whiskey Barrels

Our Cask House Triple Oak Rye is blended from several whiskeys (up to 4 years old) made in different stills and using different mash bills. The result is a smooth-drinking whiskey that The International Review of Spirits calls, "A zesty rye that soothes with a balancing, creamy center."

The Triple Oak Process:

1. The rye whiskeys selected for Cask House are aged separately in their original barrels
2. We then blend these spirits and put them back in the barrel to allow the flavors to mingle
3. We finish Cask House in bourbon barrels of differing ages, giving our rye whiskey notes of caramel to balance against the peppery flavors.

Our Cask House Rye was rated by Tastings.com as a Silver Medal "best buy" at $19.99!

